Q. a. 4

ht: A resident mayo

walking-gonging Storke Tower, for one night I. V. deviates from it's normal, if it can be called that, image.

In earlier years, Halloween at UCSB brought shivers to the local law enforcement officials. Violence and vandalism forced the institution of roadblocks and police intervention, but recently there have not been any major problems. Students seem to be putting more energy into their costumes and less into disrupting the community.
